From a Colored Soldier.

John Goodrich, col., has received a letter from his son Private Rogers Goodrich, who is in France, notifying him that he is well and that he has arranged to send him $20 a month, $15 from his own pay and $5 added by the Government. Also that he had forwarded an insurance policy. He refers to the fact that two of his brothers, Jeremiah and John are also in the service and two others, Wallace and Lewis are in the draft. The letter concludes: "That will make five of us boys serving our country and I pray that we will all get back home safe again. If it is God's will I know that we will all come back safe."

The Bolsheviks are said to have executed 200 men growing out of the assassination of the German ambassador, Mirbach.

PLEA OF GUILTY.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., the big mail order house of Chicago has pleaded guilty according to an announcement by the Federal Trade Commission to five of the counts of the petition filed against it for practicing unfair competition against retail merchants of this country and an order has been issued by the Commission to the company that it shall cease the following practices:

1—"Circulating catalogs containing advertisements of sugar for sale wherein it is falsely represented that because of large purchasing power and quick moving stock, the company is able to sell sugar at a lower price than its competitors.

2—"Selling or offering to sell sugar below cost, through catalogs circulated throughout the country.

3—"Circulating catalogs containing advertisements representing that its competitors do not deal fairly, honestly and justly with their customers.

4—"Circulating catalogs containing advertisements offering its tea for sale in which advertisement it is falsely stated that the company sends a special representative to Japan who personally goes into the tea gardens of that country and personally supervises the picking of the tea.

5—"Circulating catalogs containing advertisements offering coffee for sale in which it is falsely said that the company purchases all coffee direct from the best plantations in the world.

MINISTER AN AUTHOR.

Dr. Lewis Powell's New Book, "Life and Service," is just from the press. Bishop Horace M. DuBose, who read the Manuscript of the above mentioned publication, writes as follows in the current number of The Methodist Review.

"This volume, by a busy and devoted pastor, is an echo out of the double experience of a man who works in the study for his own spiritual and intellectual enlightenment, and in the open field of the ministry for the enlightenment and salvation of others. This pastor has found in the study what every alert student will find, namely the distress which is sought to be brought upon the truth by undevout criticism and by the uncircumcised of mind in general. He has also found that men in the busy world without—men too greatly burdened and limited is therefore an answer shaped to his own need, and meant to secure the balance and repose of his own thoughts. The question with him could have been but a natural one, namely: "If these answers have meant so much to me, might they not mean something worth while to others?" This is the genesis of every real book. It is confessedly the genesis of this book. It is made up of present-day discussion of aspects of science, criticism, civics, and the round of Christian activities and duties. It is a volume which one may read with profit in any of its chapters. Its motif and teaching will not be readily mistaken."

"Life and Service" is just from the press this week, Smith and Lamar of Nashville being the publishers.

ALMOST KILLED JOHN D. JONES. NEAR BEVERLY, IN RUN. AWAY.

John D. Jones, a farmer living near Beverly, had a narrow escape from death a few days ago. He was on a load of tobacco in his barn when the mules to the wagon made a sudden start and ran out of the barn door. Mr. Jones' head was struck by a beam over the door and he was knocked senseless and his head badly cut.

He recovered after a time and was able to be in town yesterday with his head bandaged.

The two phone systems of Louisville are expected to be consolidated under government control.
